

Sunday, April 8, 2007

The New York Times

Week in Review

Laugh Lines

Conan O'Brien

Republican candidates are announcing their first-quarter fundraising totals so far. Mitt Romney announced that he has raised $23 million. Meanwhile, Rudy Giuliani announced he's raised $15 million and Tom Tancredo announced he's raised two children.

This weekend at the New York Auto Show, the taxicab of the future will be on display. Designers say the cab is so futuristic that the driver will be from a country that doesn't even exist yet.